

New assembly instructions for hardside covers with integrated safety liners

We have implemented a change in regards of installing our covers with integrated safety liners that are used for hardside bed systems and our 2 beds: Akva Mira and Akva Lyra.

The heater pad can now be placed under the safety liner, as we are making a cut in the lower part of the cover enabling you to place the heater pad inside the cover.

The sensors of the heating system can now operate more effectively and precisely, and the pad is insulated lying in the cover instead of being placed directly on the bottom plates.

We therefore ask you to assemble all hardside bed systems according to these new and changed instructions.

Akva March 2019